"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

All That Christmas Implies We Are About to Realize

WE WISH OUR READERS, one and all, a Merry Christmas—merry does not half express it this year—joyous, for with the war over, and the boys coming back and plans being made around the peace table for "peace on earth, good will toward all men" for all time, surely it is the birth of a new era, emblematic of the great Nativity and what Christ typifies on earth.

It should be a matter of deep satisfaction and pride to realize that our country and the man whom its people elected to the highest office in the land, has crystalized all the finer sentiment which has been growing among us and that the sister nations of the earth look to our own United States and its president to illumunate the way to an abiding harmony and lasting peace which shall forever preclude the sinster monster of war and make civilization invulnerable. Out of the chaos of the past four years has risen this great possibility, more tangible, more promising, more real than we ever dreamed possible and if it is attained, the conflict, terrible as it has been, will not have been in vain. The star of Bethlehem's divine prophecy is to be fulfilled and Christmas, that glorious festival, which has kept aglow the hearts of men for their fellows will have a more potent meaning—a more abiding significance than ever. From a beautiful ideal, a passing senitment, it is growing into realism. From a shadowy hope it is becoming a substance. From misty history the lesson of peace on earth, good will toward all men is being written into our book of life. We may well rejoice.

A Memorial For Our Soldiers

WITH GOLD STARS already on our service flag, and boys home from the dangers and privations they have been through on the battle fields of Europe, it is a fitting and seasonable thought that we ponder upon what the community is going to do as a memorial for the service and supreme sacrifice of our brave young sons. No monument or tablet can half express the gratitude and feeling of loyal Americans for those who served in the terrible days of war overseas, but a fitting memorial of some kind as concrete evidence of our sentiment and as a reminder to future generations will go down in history and add noble lustre to the achievement of this great year's citizenship. We would suggest that a gift chest with glass front, such as was used in some of the great war work drives, be set up in some prominent window about town and that voluntary contributions of gold, silver and currency be deposited there for the purpose of piling up a fund to erect a memorial monument; that every donors name be kept on a scroll, and that this be placed in the corner stone when the great achievement was possible and work on it begun.

We believe the impulse is within us all to honor our soldiers and sailors in some expressive way and the voluntary response flowing into a gift chest for the purpose of paying them a lasting and high mark of respect would be in itself a tribute more precious than what we actually builded. Perhaps when enough of the boys arrive home so that we can carry out some fine demonstration in their honor, that this or some other idea will take a more definite form and be given the necessary impetus.

Misguided Women Butt In

AS PLAIN as the nose on your face was the reason for the entrance of the W. C. T. U. into the Mooney defense. Going up into the air over Mooney, was just one way of getting back at District Attorney Fickert and their quarrel with him over the enforcement of the red-light abatement laws. They apparently knew nothing of the merits of the Mooney case and simply vented their spleen at the chief prosecutor. Such action does not win the confidence of the public and in a quarter which aspires to such righteous conduct, it is deplorable. There is nothing earnest or honorable about such methods.

The W. C. T. U. and the moving spirits in its recent convention went on a rampage akin to the once frenzied suffragettes and they not only reached out a long arm to swat the brewers when they got to China, but they also dealt a crushing rebuke to tobacco using school teachers. Verily these Wise, Cute Tedious, Uniques have found for themselves a task of cleaning the Augean stables of the world. But let them not forget that the desecrators of the flag and the friends of anarchy constitute the worst mess with which civilization has to deal. Red flag abatement is a crying need.

PRIVATE ISADORE MOSKOWITE DIED FROM WOUNDS RECEIVED IN BATTLE AND FAMILY HERE MOURN YOUNG HERO

ISADORE W. MOSKOWITE

The sad intelligence of the death of Private Isadore W. Moskowite was conveyed to his mother here by telegram on the 18th and the family and community mourn once again a brave young hero who gave his life in the service of his country.

Moskowite was a splendid young man, born in New York city twenty-six years ago and when he reached France, after the call to service in the national army, he braved every danger and hardship to do his share in making the world safe for democracy. Many thrilling accounts of his bravery in action have been received here and after the harrowing experience of lying wounded in a shell hole for five days after all his comrades had been killed around him, he came into camp one night carrying his machine gun though reported missing in action. After spending some time in the hospital, he went back into active service again and three times went over the top after some of the now famous and historic barrages. His brief span of life was full of wondrous experience but he was not destined to the holiday homecoming which was anticipated by his fond parents here. Heaven's portals received the hero and son on October 13th and this Christmas holiday is sad indeed for the mother who received the following sad message after his death;

Washington, D. C. Dec. 6, 1918.

Mrs. Anna Moskowite, Schellville Cal

Deeply regret to inform you that it is officially reported that Private Isadore W. Moskowite, Infantry, died October 13th from wounds received in action.

Harris, The Adjutant General.

The Moskowite family formerly resided in South Africa, where they were big realty owners and prominent in the commission business. Besides the bereaved parents of Isadore Moskowite, he is survived by six brothers and sisters.

"He died for his country", no prouder status hath any mother's son

France, Oct. 22, 1918.

To Mrs. Anna Moskowite,
Schellville, Calif.,

My dear Mrs. Moskowite:

I want to send you my deepest sympathy in the death of your son. As chaplain I am with our boys in the hospital and try to help them as I can. I pray with them and remind them that death is an experience in our life and without fear, in perfect trust, they can pass through it into larger life.

Our boys families are often in our thoughts and we wish so much that we could help comfort them in their sorrow. Your sacrifice is very great but your faith will teach you that all is well with your son. He has given up his earthly life in a great cause and will ever be held in greatful remembrance by his country.

Faithfully yours,
Arthur D. Washburn.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Smalley of Seattle, were here over the last week end visiting their cousin, Mrs. M. E. Murphy.

J. W. HEISER DIES OF BURNS

Well Known Poultryman Loses Life In Fire Which Destroyed Incubator House

J. W. Hiser one of Sonoma Valley's prominent and esteemed poultry man succumbed to burns received in a fire which destroyed his incubator house last Friday night. Mr. Hiser went to light a lamp in the incubator plant and it is presumed it exploded, setting fire to his clothing and communicating to the building. When the unfortunate man's daughter Miss Jessie, saw the blaze she ran out to find her father unconscious on the ground his clothing burned to a cinder and the poultry plant in flames. He had evidently had presence of mind enough to roll himself in the damp grass thereby extinguishing the flames but not before he had been fatally burned. He had inhaled the fire and the flesh on his limbs was literally cooked. Dr. Gobar was hastily summoned and also volunteer fire fighters but the poultry house was a complete loss and Mr. Hiser's condition pronounced extremely critical He lingered all week and finally passed away Thursday as a result of the terrible accident.

So badly burned was Mr. Hiser that amputation of his limbs would have been necessary.

Mr. Hiser was born in Indiana 55 years ago and leaves a widow and two children, Henry Hiser and Miss Jessie Hiser to mourn a devoted husband and kind parent.

The funeral takes place today from the Bates Undertaking Parlors.

WELCOME HOME!

Returning soldiers are being given a hearty welcome home and will add much to the happiness of many of our homes on Christmas.

SHOFNER FAMILY AGAIN BEREAVED

Mrs. Trenkman of Portland, The Eldest Daughter Dies of Influenza

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shofner whose cup of sorrow was already filled with sadness in the loss of a beautiful and beloved daughter, have again suffered a terrible blow, for this week they received news of the death of their eldest married daughter, Mrs. Trenkman of Portland, Oregon. She was a victim of the influenza, her death having occured in the northern metropolis last Sunday.

Only the Christian fortitude of these excellent people will sustain them in their great and added grief although the heart of the community goes out to them in their great trouble.

Mrs. Trenkman was a charming and gracious matron, a woman of many sterling traits of character and one to whom her parents looked for advise and guidance. She was present at the recent obsequies of her sister, Miss May Shofner, and returned north shortly after the funeral.

Deceased leaves a devoted husband and fourteen year old daughter to mourn her untimely passing.

Mr. and Mrs. Shofner are being comforted by their son who came to be with them upon receipt of the sad news.

PURSUED HIS VICTIM HERE

Woman Shot By Crazed Suitor in San Francisco Had Been Former Resident. Assailant Came To Valley Night Before Tragedy.

Mrs. Lottie Benker, who lies in a hospital suffering from disfigurement and injury as a result of the shooting scrape of several weeks ago in San Francisco when she was assailed by a love crazed suitor who killed himself, was a former resident of this valley. She and her former husband owned a little ranch in the chicken colony here a few years ago and she had been visiting at the Frank McGill home at Schellville just the day before the tragedy. Her little son is now here with the McGills and Mrs. McGill has been a constant visitor to the unfortunate victim who has survived the bullet wound inflicted by the man she refused to marry. A recent operation however cost the once beautiful young woman her eye and she will be disfigured all her life.

After separating from her husband Mrs. Benker met Hugh Collins, the principal of the tragedy, and he became madly infatuated with her. He followed her about relentlessly and she finally came to Schellville, hoping to avoid his attentions and planning to move up here permanently into the Greenfield cottage on Spain St. and on the night of the day she had gone to San Francisco to arrange to ship her furniture here Collins appeared at the McGill home and asked for her. Mr. and Mrs. McGill were alarmed by the conduct of the man who seemed much agitated as he told them he wanted Mrs. Benker to marry him and go to New Orleans.

When he found that she had returned to the city, he followed the next morning and there made the appointment with her and her sister on Powell St. which led to the fateful shooting and the suicide of the assailant.

The little son of the victim who is being cared for by Mrs. McGill knows nothing of the tragic illness of his mother. Her condition was reported improved when Mrs. McGill visited her at the hospital Tuesday last.

ATTENDED FUNERAL OF RELATIVE IN STOCKTON

Mrs. D. Valente and sons attended the funeral of Mrs. Risso in Stockton this week. Deceased lady was the youngest sister of Mrs. Valente and succumbed to the influenza.

Jack and Jep Valente went up in a machine, arriving in Stockton Wednesday evening. Mrs. Valente had been up there several days previous and was with her sister when she passed away.

Mrs. P. B. Berges was up Sunday from San Francisco visiting friends. Her son has arrived from "overseas" and wired that he was in New York.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY

J. A. Landsborough Victim of Heart Failure Near Modesto.

James Arthur Landsborough, who spent much of his life in and around Sonoma, coming here in fact when quite a young man from Australia, died very suddenly at Hickman, Stanislaus county on the 13th instant. He was in charge of a big ranch project there and following several attacks of fainting spells for some time past and a recent case of blood poisoning, he was in weak health and died Friday of acute heart failure. His death was a great shock to his devoted wife, Enriqueta de V Landsborough whom he married many years ago in Peru and who has been his constant companion and helpmeet

A brother in Sacramento, and other relatives were at once notified of the sad demise and arrangements made to have the remains brought to Sonoma. Here beside his foster mother, Mrs. Lubeck and other dear departed ones, all that was mortal of James A. Landsborough was laid to rest Sunday after short services at St. Francis Church.

Mr. Landsborough resided at Locust Grove for many years and was a dashing equestrian and popular young fellow in the eighties. He subsequently traveled widely and while in South America, met and married the gracious lady who is widowed by his untimely passing.

After an absence of some years, Mr. Landsborough returned to Sonoma valley and among other projects was at one time engaged in the publication of the Expositor.

Of late he has resided in Stanislaus county where he was superintendent of a big ranch property.

Besides his widow, he left his brother, L. M. Landsborough and four sisters to mourn him. The sisters are Miss Isabella Landsborough, Mrs Harry Bode, Mrs. John Blair and Mrs Henry Whitley. He was 52 years of age.

Mrs. Burmester the popular Eastern Star member and El Verano resident is convalescent from her recent illness and her recovery was hastened by the return of her son Harry from the hospital in S. F.

Otto Brandt of Schellville took a grand champion prize with one of his fine stallions at the recent stock show in Southern California.

Among the out of town young people who will attend the Glove cutters dance tonight will be Misses Annie and May Devinceinze and brother of S. F. and Ralph Baldwin

RAN OVER WIFE WITH AUTOMOBILE

A peculiar accident which resulted in a broken leg was the experience of Mrs. J. L. Bernard of the Baxter tract who was run over by her husband's automobile. He was backing up with the machine and in some way it struck her, throwing her to the ground and passing over both her legs Fortunately but one of the limbs was fractured. Mr. Bernard made all haste to summon Dr. Hays who attended the injury and the patient is now doing as well as can be expected

RED CROSS CAPTAIN REPORTS PROGRESS

The Red Cross membership drive is progressing favorably with the help of the corps of faithful workers. Though we do not look for a 100 per cent enrollment we would like to have every family in Sonoma valley represented in the Red Cross. Remember Monday is the last day of the drive so have your dollar ready when our workers call on you.

In addition to the aides already mentioned Mrs. Susie Batchelor and Mrs. J. H. Murray have kindly consented to work.

Up to Thursday night 550 names had been enrolled with several lists still to hear from.

E. C. Campbell
Captain of the Drive

L. A. Waehlin who enlisted in the Navy has received his honorable discharge and has resumed the management of the popular Villa Savoy which he will conduct as heretofore.

Howard Knight swore to a complaint this week in the Justice Court charging Steve Anazitos of restaurant fame with pursuing birds on the public highway which is a misdeamenor according to an ordinance of the county. Since the birds were not "chickens" or chippies Steve says he should worry.

Anazitos with a party of friends were down Schellville way and Steve was steering the big car from which a hunter is alleged to have fired a shot at some quail, hence the complaint. It will be aired in court here next Friday.

Ed Peterson was a motorcycle dispatch bearer after arriving in France but was sorry he did not get a chance at the Hun with his machine gun with which he was an expert shot.

City Marshal Albertson was greeted on the streets after an attack of pneumonia which laid him up for two weeks. Jim says he is shy 15 pounds. No one ever accused the genial marshal of being shy before.

Messrs Stillings, Wagnon and Chase, all in the service were here this week.

Mrs. Bernice Small Sholdell and family are visiting relatives in Texas.

Miss Nellie Peterson and sister will spend the holiday with their folks in Richmond.

Miss Antoinette Froment came home for the holidays Tuesday evening.

Hazen Cowen of Glen Ellen who has been in active service with the cavalry in France has participated in every big drive of recent date and has had plenty of experience chasing Germans.

F. J. Duggan has brought suit against Chas. Deane for $65 alleged to be due him for prunes sold to the defendant.
